
Contents

Introduction

Rainer Münz and Myron Weiner vii

Chapter 1

The Impact of German Policy on Refugee Flows
from Former Yugoslavia
Heinz-Jürgen Axt

1

Chapter 2

The Impact of U.S. Policy on Migration from Mexico and the Caribbean
Christopher Mitchell

35

Chapter 3

Migration in the Russian Federation since the Mid-1980s: Refugees, Immigrants, and Emigrants
Christian Dornis

77

Chapter 4

German Policies Toward Ethnic German Minorities
Volker Ronge

117

Chapter 5

Policies Toward Russia and Other Successor States
Barbara Dietz and Klaus Segbers

141

Chapter 6

The New Labor Migration as an Instrument of German Foreign Policy

Elmar Hönekopp

165

Chapter 7

Bad Neighbors, Bad Neighborhoods: An Inquiry into the Causes of Refugee Flows, 1969-1992

Myron Weiner

183

Chapter 8

Economic Instruments to Affect Countries of Origin

Philip Martin

231

Chapter 9

Can Military Intervention Limit Refugee Flows?

Barry Posen

273

Chapter 10

Conclusion: Policies to Reduce Refugee Flows and Pressures for Emigration

Myron Weiner and Rainer Münz

323

Notes on Contributors

357

Index

363