

Table of Contents

- 8 Foreword
- 9 Introduction

Catalogue of the Exhibition:

- 15 Origins and Rise of the Nazi Movement
- 117 Participation – Exclusion: Two Sides of the 'People's Community'
- 237 Munich and the War
- 303 Investigating the Nazi Period

Essays:

- Hans Günter Hockerts
- 387 Why Munich? How the Bavarian Metropolis became the 'Capital of the Movement'
- Peter Longerich
- 397 Hitler, Munich, and the Early History of the Nazi Party
- Ulrich Herbert
- 406 The 'People's Community': Equality and Inequality
- Lutz Raphael
- 417 National Socialism in Europe in the World War Era
- Dietmar Süß
- 424 Violence and the Experience of Violence in the 'Third Reich'
- Christiane Kuller
- 431 Bureaucratic Administration and Nazi Policies of Persecution

- Andreas Wirsching
439 Privacy
- Frank Bajohr
446 The Profiteer Society of the 'Third Reich'
- Marita Krauss
453 Munich Society under National Socialism
- Winfried Süß
462 The Centre of the Party – Munich and the Reich Leadership of the Nazi Party
- Gerhard Paul
470 Seeing and Hearing in National Socialism
- Ute Frevert
479 Faith, Love, Hate: The National Socialist Politics of Emotions
- Elizabeth Harvey
487 Gender and 'People's Community' under National Socialism
- Thomas Brechenmacher and Harry Oelke
494 Churches, Confessions, and the 'Third Reich'
- Jürgen Zarusky
504 Resistance and Loyalty to the Regime
- Wolfgang Frühwald
513 Culture in the Service of National Socialism
- Helmuth Trischler
522 Munich as a Science City and High-Tech Region 1920 to 1970

	Anselm Doering-Manteuffel
531	The Depths of Silence and its Origins. Continuities and Generational Experiences after the Second World War
	Winfried Nerdinger
541	Dealing with Munich's "Tattered Past"
	The View from Outside: Have the Germans Taken Responsibility for their Nazi Past? A Commentary
550	Moshe Zimmermann
555	Alan E. Steinweis
561	Włodzimierz Borodziej
569	Étienne François
577	Notes
607	Acknowledgements
608	Photographic Credits
617	Index of Places
620	Index of Names