

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Contributors	xi
Introduction
Gerhard Kirchhoff	xiii

Section I A Political Focus of East and West

1. Berlin, A Center of German–American Relations— A Solid Friendship Despite Ups and Downs Ekkehard Klaus	3
2. Postwar Berlin: Divided City Richard L. Merritt	13
3. Berlin Between East and West Dietrich Stobbe	32
4. Berlin Through the Eyes of a Longtime Member of the German Parliament (Bundestag) Walter Picard	37

Section II Development of a Culture

5. Social Consciousness and Social Causes: Impulses for Social Reform at the Turn of the Century in Berlin Louis Lowy	47
6. Jewish Life in Berlin Until the Hitler Period Leon A. Feldman	55
7. Cabaret and the Dilemma of Satire in the Early Weimar Republic Peter Jelavich	69
8. Literary and Cinematic Representations of the Great Depression in Germany Maria Tatar	80
9. Berlin Culture in Exile, 1933–1945 Thomas S. Hansen	98

10.	The Grandchildren of Grosz and Kirchner: Realism and Violence in Postwar Berlin Art Eckhart Gillen	112
11.	Literary and Cultural Life in West Berlin Ingeborg Drewitz	130

Section III Personal Experiences in a World Capital

12.	Berlin's Portrait in Prose Walter Höllerer	143
13.	The Portrait of Berlin in Lyric Poetry A. Leslie Willson	152
14.	A New Yorker's Berlin Richard Kostelanetz	179
15.	Berlin as a Music Center Wolfgang Stresemann	190
16.	Filmstadt Berlin Ronald Holloway	203
17.	Berlin as a Theater Center Joachim Werner Preuss	216

Section IV A Thriving City

18.	Berlin as an Intellectual Center Karl W. Deutsch	227
19.	Berlin—The Cultural Metropolis of Germany? Wilhelm A. Kewenig	240
20.	West Berlin and the International Business Community Wolfe J. Frankl	248
21.	Berlin as a Center of Science and Technology: Challenge and Necessity Jürgen Starnick	253
22.	Aims, Work, and Relevancy of Centers for Advanced Study in Transatlantic Dialogue Wolf Lepenies	270
23.	The Evolution of Berlin's Urban Form Through History, Illustrated by Selected Examples Wilhelm V. von Moltke	277